

I recently purchased a vehicle that came equipped with Satellite Radio. I didn't think that I would continue the service after the free three month trial, but I did. I found that I enjoyed not having to listen to all of the mindless drivel that most radio stations seem to feel they "owe" the public. With satellite radio, I can listen to music when I want to (without commercials), I can listen to talk radio when I want to (without commercials), and I can listen to comedy when I want to (WITHOUT commercials).

I LOVE satellite radio. If I didn't, I would not be paying for this service. I have a satellite for my television reception. Why shouldn't I be able to have satellite radio?

I also enjoy the fact that I can get instant weather and traffic through my satellite radio.

Leave the satellite radio folks alone ! ! ! ! ! ! !
